

Sportscover a finalist in the Underwriting Agency of the Year

Sportscover is delighted to once again be nominated as a finalist in the Underwriting Agency of the Year category at the 2011 Australian Insurance Industry Awards. The other two finalists in this category are Accident and Health International and Australis Group Underwriting.

Chris Nash, CEO of Sportscover Australia, recognised the efforts of everyone involved with Sportscover that has lead to Sportscover being nominated again. "The nomination is a tribute to our clients, broker network and staff, who are all acknowledged in helping us with this great achievement. We are delighted to be a finalist in this year's awards"

An ANZIIF spokesperson commented "Announcing the finalists today and acknowledging their achievement is an important step in recognising an impressive field. Only those submissions that were deemed to be of a suitable standard by the judging panel have made the list of finalists."

They continued "The judging this year was a very difficult task and the level of experience, knowledge, discipline and considered thought that the Judging panel brought to the process was exemplary. As is the case each year, the entire judging process was independently audited by Ernst and Young to ensure the most rigorous and transparent result."

The winner in each category will be announced at the Insurance Industry Awards Gala at the Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre's Parkside Ballroom, Thursday 11 August.
